

Individual Status Report #3 – Sarah Dieffenbaugher

4/4/2021

1. Goals from last week: Finish outlining what data our product should use as well as start planning how to complete my part of the product.
2. Progress made this week: This week I created the context and data flow diagrams for our product and contributed to the update of Lo-Fi prototypes. I did not understand the concepts of models and associations, but thankfully others in the group did. On a personal level I did begin conceptualizing how my part of the project will be implemented.
3. Goals for next week: I plan to help define acceptance criteria as well as outline how our product will handle different ranges or types of data.
