

Individual Status Report #2

3/27/2021

1. Goals from last week: Get caught up on tutorials
2. Progress made this week: This week I completed flask tutorials 2 and 3, helped brainstorm ideas for ethical concerns regarding our product and reviewed complexity of some functionalities. I learned about wireframing and how that can be applied to create a prototype of a system or website. Simplifying some functionalities made it easier to create a wireframe, however I still have to think through what kind of information our product should store and display.
3. Goals for next week: I plan to finish outlining what data our product should use as well as start planning how to complete my part of the product.
